

Handprint Poem

Here is a gift
So you can recall,
How my hands looked
When I was small.

I'm _____ years old

And growing so fast
I wanted to give you
Something that would last.

You taught me to use
My hands for good
To hug, to love, and
Do things I should.

So this is to thank you
And to say,
I love you more
And more each day.

Here is a gift
So you can recall,
How my hands looked
When I was small.

I'm _____ years old

And growing so fast
I wanted to give you
Something that would last.

You taught me to use
My hands for good
To hug, to love, and
Do things I should.

So this is to thank you
And to say,
I love you more
And more each day.

Here is a gift
So you can recall,
How my hands looked
When I was small.

I'm _____ years old

And growing so fast

Something that would last.

You taught me to use

And to say,
I love you more
And more each day.
